1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a container, classified in class 206, subclass 373.
 - II. Claims 15-18, drawn to a method of using a container, classified in class 220, subclass 528.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by a materially different method of using such as employing the container without a purchase taking place, such as before or after changing hands between a vendor and a buyer.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. During a telephone conversation with Stephanie Felicetty on December 21, 2005, a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of I, claims 1-

14. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 15-18 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 250 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 250 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

6. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it comprises more than one paragraph. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

8. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 10, there is no basis as to what distinguishes "the other”, as no basis for comparison or preclusion has been set forth in the claim or parent claim 8. Also, “aid base portion” is in error.

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

10. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hung (5,915,554). Claims 1-5, 7-8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vasudeva (Figure 19)(5,887,715). Disclosed is a container (21 and 25; 91; respectively) having an interior and an exterior, the container comprising a top portion (21; at 19) pivotally connected to a base portion (25; at 90), and a holder (10; 8) removably mounted to one of the top portion or the base portion on the interior of the container, the holder having a storage area accessible from the interior of the container when the holder is inserted in a first position (see Figures 2, 3 and 5; in 19) and accessible from the exterior of the container when the holder is inserted in a second position (see Figures 5 and 6; in 90).

As to claim 2, the container (21 and 25; 91) comprises a toolbox.

As to claim 3, the holder is adapted to receive accessories.

As to claims 4 and 8, various portions of the container may be characterized as a “passageway” (at 22; including receiving portions of elements 19 and 90).

As to claims 6, 9 and 11, Hung discloses rails (110 or 140) mating with slots (230 and 280).

As to claims 5, 7 and 14, portions (280, 230, 28; apertures 19 and 90) may be characterized as a bracket to secure the holder therein.

As to claim 10, various portions of the container may be characterized as an "extended portion".

As to claims 12 and 13, the holder (10) of Hung further includes a transparent door (15).

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Shown are containers with holders disposable in various positions.
